USA Financial Radio can now be heard on the radio from coast to coast, expanding its reach into the Pacific Northwest, Northern California, and adding to its growing list of stations in Pennsylvania and North Carolina. The program now airs on over 30 affiliate radio stations across America.

USA Financial Radio is a nationally syndicated financial talk show committed to the belief that planning comes first, and investing comes second. The show is hosted by executives who run an investment broker/dealer, money management firm, insurance brokerage, and technology firm. Your source for all things financial, the show and its website (www.usafinancialradio.com) deliver “meaningfully relevant” information to consumers in or nearing retirement.

In 2011, the oldest members of the Baby Boom generation celebrated their 65th birthday. With each passing day for the next two decades, roughly 10,000 Americans will retire. Will they retire more gracefully than their parents did? What do the Boomers need to know about managing their finances before and during retirement? How should they invest? What about life insurance? Long Term Care insurance? Annuities? These are the questions tackled on the USA Financial Radio Show, where planning comes first, and investing comes second.

###

The USA Financial Radio Show is strictly educational in nature and is not intended as personal financial advice. You should seek the help of a qualified financial professional regarding any strategies discussed on this show, as every investor's situation is unique. Investing carries an inherent element of risk, including the potential for loss of principal and income. The hosts of the show are investment adviser representatives of, and offer securities through, USA Financial Securities, Member FINRA/SIPC (www.finra.org) and a Registered Investment Advisor. 6020 E. Fulton St., Ada, MI 49301.
